AUTHOR TABLE FOR INDIAN NAMES

PRINTED IN INDIA BY THE MANAGER
GOVT OF INDIA PRESS NASIK ROAD 1961

THE LIBRARIAN
NATIONAL LIBRARY, CALCUTTA, INDIA
DECEMBER, 1960

INTRODUCTION

For rendering effective service to the readers and for having a proper order on the shelves, it is essential to give a distinctive symbol to each book of the same class. The average library arranges the books in author order. Charles A. Cutter has devised a table for assigning author numbers called "C. A. Cutter's Three-figure Author Table". The initial one or more letters of the surname are retained for the Author number but the rest of the letters are replaced by the appropriate number taken from the table. This system helps to arrange books within a class alphabetically by the author's surnames. It is most extensively used by libraries all over the world. But, for Indian libraries Cutter's Table is not found suitable because Cutter has constructed his Table with Anglo-Saxon surnames as a basis. When this Table is used for Indian names, it very often necessitates expansion of the three-figure numbers to six or seven digits, which obviously becomes unwieldy. Hence, it was felt that an author table suited specially for the Indian names would be quite helpful in Indian libraries. The basic principle followed in the preparation of this Author Table, however, is the same as that in C. A. Cutter's Three Figure Author Table.

The examples given below will show how Cutter's table is inadequate for Indian names.

'Mukhopadhyaya' is a Bengali surname, 'Josi' a Marathi surname and other South Indian names. In the above examples, all the authors selected belong to the class 'FICTION'. It is possible that more than hundred authors possess the same surname 'Mukhopadhyaya'. So is the case with such surnames as 'Vandyopadhyaya', 'Vasu', 'Cattopadhyaya', 'Raya', 'Mahanti', 'Josi', 'Apate', 'Jain', 'Gosvami', 'Ghosa', 'Divedi', 'Datta', 'Dase' and 'Bhattacharya'. According to Cutter's Table, all these will have to be hustled into only one number in their respective alphabetical tables and any attempt to assign individual numbers by expansion will result in unwieldy numbers stretching to seven or eight digits. Further, as no library books are acquired and processed in the alphabetical order of the names of authors, the expansion of the numbers is bound to be extremely arbitrary. It will be seen that this Author Table provides distinct author numbers for every author having the same surnames but different forenames. Example III shows that the various South Indian writers whose names begin with the word 'Rama' will have to be compressed within the numbers 'R 14' and 'R 141' with arbitrary expansions, whereas this Author Table can provide for about 400 such names that may begin with the word 'Rama'.

For compiling this Author Table, a very comprehensive list of names belonging to the various linguistic, regional and cultural groups was first made with the aid of the available bibliographies, catalogues and other relevant lists. It will be found that plenty of scope for expansion and accommodation has been given. In general, each alphabet is provided with 729 numbers except the alphabets E, F, H, I, L, O, Q, U, W, X, Y and Z. But where a very large number of names begin with the same letter, two schedules of numbers are provided. In such cases, for the second schedule, the first two letters should be taken for constructing numbers. In the case of S, three schedules had to be provided on account of the very large number of names beginning with this alphabet.

Though this Table does not pretend to have exhausted all the possible Indian names of persons and solved entirely the problem of accommodating the ever increasing names of authors, an attempt has been made to incorporate the names of the Indian authors from the various groups.

I am deeply grateful to the band of workers in the Cataloguing Division II for their excellent co-operation in achieving this fine result, under the leadership of Sarvasiri M. N. Nagaraj, S. Balasubramanyam, N. Nagarajan, C. V. Datar and S. N. Khanna.

EXPLANATION OF THE AUTHOR TABLE

This table is specially compiled for names of Indian authors transliterated into Roman script according to the Hunterian system of transliteration, which is internationally accepted. As the book number is merely a servicing convenience without implications of any scholarly rendering of the names, the diacritical marks have been deliberately left out. Krishna, Premchand, Apte, these popular names, for example, are transliterated from the language script as KRSNA, PREMACANDA and APATE. The sanskritised form of names has been accepted for this purpose. The two Bengali surnames Banerji and Basu/Bose are entered as Vandyopadhyaya and Vasu. Surnames have been accepted as the entry words wherever they are generally established as such. Saratcandra Cattopadhyaya (Bengali), Ravindranatha Thakura (Bengali), Jayasankara Prasada (Hindi), Ramanalala Desai (Gujarati), Mahadevasastri Josi (Marathi), these authors from various regions are entered under their surnames e.g.

Cattopadhyaya, Saratcandra
Thakura, Ravindranatha
Prasada, Jayasankara
Desai, Ramanalala
Josi, Mahadevasastri

In the case of South Indian and Muslim names, however, the personal names are used as entry words, e. g.

Madhava Panikkar, K.
Venkata Hanumantaraao, P.
Srinivasayyengar
Abdul Ghaffar
Muhammad Masud Siddiqi.

Letter by letter alphabetisation is followed down to the punctuation mark. Compound names though written separately, are alphabetised as if they are one, e.g.

RAMAN, C.	R 695
RAMAN, P.	R 698
RAMANATHAN, K.	R 722
RAMAN NAYAR	R 756
RAMANUJA	R 768
DASA, SU	D 418
DASA, V.	D 431
DASA, Y.	D 438
DASA ADHIKARI	D 441

DASA DE	D 443
DASA GUPTA	D 447
DASA GUPTA, D.	D 456
DASA KUNDU	D 481

How to use the Table

1. Look for the first few letters of the author's name in the Table. The author number is got by writing the figures (noted against the letters) after the initial letter of the author's name. (Subject to the exceptions given in para 2).

e. g. Haribhatta H 385

2. As a very large number of names begin with the letters A, B, D, G, K, M, P, R and V two schedules are provided. For names falling under the schedule I, only the initial letter is used, and for those under the schedule II, the first two initial letters are used. For example, names beginning with the letters A-AK are in schedule I, and names beginning with the letters Al-Az are in schedule II. While using the initial letter or letters, names as Adityan, Agnihotri, Akhilandesvari will have only A, whereas names as Alimuddin, Ambika, Asura, Avinasalingam, Azvar will have Al, Am, As, Av, Az preceding the author number because the first group of names is in the schedule I (A-Ak) and the second group of names in the schedule II (Al-Az). (Details of the schedules are given below.)

Letters	Schedule I	Schedule II	Schedule III
A	A-Ak	Al-Az
B	B-Bg	Bh-Bz
C	C-Cz
D	D-Dg	Dh-Dz
E } F }	Two digits (11-99 only)
G	G-Gh	Gi-Gz
H	H-Hz (111-699 only)
I	I-Iz (111-699 only)
J	J-Jz
K	K-Kg	Kh-Kz
L	L-Lz (111-699 only)
M	M-Md	Me-Mz
N	N-Nz
O	Two digits (11-99 only)
P	P-Pd	Pe-Pz
		(vi)

Letters	Schedule I	Schedule II	Schedule III
Q	Two digits (11-99 only)
R	R-Ram	Ran-Rz
S	S-Sar	Sas-Sj	Sk-Sz
T	T-Tz
U	U-Uz (111-499 only)
V	V-Vd	Ve-Vz
W } X }	Two digits (11-99 only)
Y	Y-Yz (111-299 only)
Z	Two digits (11-99 only)

For names beginning with the letter S three schedules are provided. Use only the initial letter for names in schedule I and the first two initial letters for the names in schedules II and III.

e.g.

SADASIVAN, K.	S 152
SEKHARAN, P.	Se 321
SUKUMARAN	Su 692

3. If the first letters of the name do not occur in the Table, take the letters next previous in the alphabetical order and use the number provided against that group of letters. For example, to fix the author number for the name Premendranath the number will be Pr 678 (page 171).

4. If a number is already in use, annex another decimal. If Cakravarti, Narasimha is already assigned the author number C 193, Cakravarti, Narayana may be given C 1935. In making such insertions it is necessary to consider in what part of the gap the new name will go best, so as to leave room on one side or the other for further insertions. Avoid using the number 1 as long as the other numbers are vacant, because when it is once used nothing can well be inserted before it. One cannot put, for instance, anything between 193 and 1931.

5. The figures are considered as decimals and arranged on the shelf in the order N 193, N 1935, N 194 and so on.

6. Different books written by the same author in the same class may be distinguished by adding to the author number the first letter or letters of the title or catch title. For example, Parinita and Srikanta are both Bengali novels written by the same author Saratendra Chattopadhyaya. In this case the class number of both the books is the same and the author number is C 489. Add the initial letters of the titles, p and s to the author number to individualise each book in such cases.

7. For translations, after the author number write the initial letter of the original title followed by the initial letter of the translator. Defoe's Robinson Crusoe, translated by Mukhopadhyaya will have the book number as D 725 rm, D 725 being the author number for Defoe, r, the initial letter of the title of the original and m, the initial letter of the translator, Mukhopadhyaya. By this all the translations of an author's work will be got together, in spite of the varied titles that may appear in translations.

(vii)

8. In the case of biographies of the same person by different biographers, distinguish each biography by adding the initial letter of the biographer to the author number of the biographee concerned.

e. g. Biography of Ravindranatha Thakura by Mukhopadhyaya will be T 479 m.
Biography of Ravindranatha Thakura by Sen will be T 479 s.

By this all the biographies of the same person will be brought together and alphabetically by the biographers' names.

9. If it is desired to keep a commentary on, criticism of, and concordance to any work immediately after that work, use capital letter 'Z' after the work number and (if necessary) the initial letter of the commentator or the critic. Tulasidasa's Ramayana will have the author number T 933 r. If a criticism or a commentary on this work by Gupta is to be kept alongside the main work the author number of the latter book will be T 933 r Zg. By this all the commentaries or criticisms of a work will be together alongside the main work.
